Robert W. Wells III.

Robert W. Wells of Hyattsville, twice a member of the Maryland legislature and whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the democratic nomination for Congress from the fifth congressional district of Maryland, is seriously ill in his apartment at the Lenox, 1523 L street northwest, this city. He was attacked with hemorrhage of the stomach while at breakfast Thursday morning, caused, it is thought, by an ulcer of the stomach. He is under the care of two physicians, and it is feared that an operation will be necessary to effect a permanent cure.

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY OF FIRE CHIEF WAGNER

Observes Seventy-Third Birthday and Thirty-Seven Years' District Service.

FIRE CHIEF WAGNER.

These figures have a double anniversary significance today for Frank J. Wagner, chief of the District fire department, who is observing his seventy-third birthday and the termination of thirty-seven years in the city's fire-fighting service.

hale and active and ready to go where any man under his command is ordered, the chief has been receiving congratulations all day, not only upon his remarkable record, but upon the prospect of his achieving other laurels before going on the retired list.

His attention was called to the fact that he is one year older than T. O. Doane, chief of the fire department of Plainfield, N. J.

Entered Service in 1879.

"I have never met Doane but I wouldn't mind taking him on for a ten-round boxing match or a 100-yard dash," said the chief. And it's a good bet there isn't a member of the local department who wouldn't wager his last cent that the Plainfield man would lose.

Chief Wagner entered the District fire department April 1, 1879, on his twenty-first birthday. He was promoted to foreman of No. 2 engine company September 29, 1883, and made assistant chief engineer July 1, 1901. Three years later he was promoted to chief engineer and December 17, 1902, appointed chief engineer, succeeding the late Chief William T. Bell.

Think He Bears Charmed Life.

His men are convinced he bears a charmed life. Reminiscing recently, the chief counted more than twenty times when he escaped death by a hair's breadth. Once he sustained a fractured skull. A fire was never too hot or the danger too great to keep him from the thickest of the fray, and the tribute paid him by the members of the various companies is that he never ordered them where he hesitated to go himself.

The chief's public services were publicly recognized by a citizens' testimonial to himself and Mrs. Wagner in the boardroom of the District building, June 12, 1912, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. They were presented with a purse containing $1,000 in gold, the volunteers offering of citizens of Washington. Former President Taft was among those who sent congratulatory messages.

BARGAIN SALE BENEFIT FOR JUNIOR REPUBLIC

Easter Bonnets, Fancy Parasols and Spring Flowers Among the Attractions Offered.

A bargain sale of Easter bonnets, fancy parasols and spring flowers will be held next Saturday from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. at the Hotel Lafayette. The proceeds of the sale will be turned into the treasury of the National Junior Republic, an organization peopled and governed by dependent and delinquent boys of Washington and Baltimore. Here in their own miniature community the lads are given a chance to become industrious, law-abiding citizens in their later years.

Dancing in Program.

A portion of the afternoon will be devoted to dancing, and tea will be served by a number of young society women throughout the day.

The committee in charge of next week's entertainment and luncheon is as follows: Mrs. William E. Fendall, chairman; Mrs. Clarence W. Richards, Mrs. Theodore Baldwin, Jr., Mrs. Judge Charles Wheeler, Mrs. W. W. Parker, Jr., Mrs. Victor Kauffmann, Mrs. Louis Lehr, Miss Hemphill, Mrs. Tallaferro, Miss Shaw and Miss Mulliken.

The officers of the Junior League of the National Republic are: Mrs. William E. Fendall, president; Mrs. Victor Kauffmann, first vice president; Mrs. W. W. Parker, Jr., second vice president; Mrs. Charles Wheeler, third vice president; Mrs. Louis Lehr, treasurer; Mrs. T. H. Tallaferro, recording secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Mace, secretary.

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

Will of Mrs. Mary E. Kleindienst Filed for Probate.

The will of Mrs. Mary E. Kleindienst, dated November 12, 1909, and modified by codicil of February 19, 1914, has been filed for probate. She leaves premises 2803 and 3509 M street northwest to her daughter, Catherine V. Serrin, and houses 3505 and 3507 M street to a son, Joseph B. Kleindienst. Another daughter, Elizabeth V. Kleindienst, is to have property in the rear of Nos. 3811 and 3815 M street, and to another daughter, Clara C. Branzell. The remainder of the estate is to be divided among Catherine V. Serrin, Joseph B. Kleindienst, Elizabeth V. Kleindienst, Clara C. Branzell, and another daughter, Clara C. Branzell. The remainder of the estate is to be divided among Catherine V. Serrin, Joseph B. IN THE EARLY CENTURIES.

Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts Describes Treatment of Women and Slaves.

Treatment of women and slaves in the centuries between the seventh and seventeenth centuries was pictured by Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts in the course of a lecture on the book "Gesta Christi," before the study class of the Woman's Interdenominational Missionary Union meeting in the Public Library yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Crafts also described the kinds of wars carried on in those times.

The speaker declared that what was then done to stop "private war" should now be done to stop war between nations.

Miss Caroline Daves Appleton, speaker of the Friends of Children, founder of her world-wide plan to aid suffering children.

ASSUMES CHARGE OF OFFICE.

E. A. Fuller Retains R. E. Smith as Deputy County Treasurer.

Edward A. Fuller, who was elected treasurer of Prince Georges county, Md., at the election last November, assumed formal charge of the office today. He retains R. E. Smith as deputy.

Mr. Fuller has been connected with the District government for the past twenty-eight years. Early in March he tendered his resignation to take effect April 1. Mr. Fuller has been editor of the Hyattsville Independent for the past six years and correspondent for Washington and Baltimore newspapers from Prince Georges county. His duties as county treasurer, he says, will in no wise affect his newspaper work.

Newton Heads Treasury Rifle Club.

Byron R. Newton, acting Secretary of the Treasury, was elected president of the Treasury Department Rifle Club, organized last night at a meeting in G. A. R. Hall. The charter members of the club number nearly 100; a constitution and by-laws were adopted, and an announcement was made that the indoor rifle range under the Oxford Hotel would be at the disposal of the organization and officers were elected: Vice president, James C. Wilmett, chief clerk, secretary, R. H. Shepard, treasurer, S. R. Jacobs, and executive officer, Lieut. E. H. Wolf.

Southern R. R. Employees Form Club.

With a view of promoting the business interests of the company by bringing the employees together in meetings of an educational nature, employees of the transportation department of the Southern railway have formed an organization to be known as the Southern Railway Transportation Club. Rules and regulations are to be systematically studied. The officers are: E. A. C. McGurran, president; E. E. Baer, vice president; and W. F. Hinson, secretary and treasurer.

More Money.

I pity the poor, sordid soul, who always is asking himself, "Oh, how can I add to my roll, and store up more plunder and pelf?"

If always you think of your pile, and make of your bank-book a pet, the things that are truly worth while you're apt to ignore or forget. If always you hanker and wish, and hunger and thirst for the mon, and never go fishing for fish, or hunting warblers with a gun, if all through the hurrying year, your thoughts are on profit and gain, your soul will be shriveled and sere, the rust will get into your brain. It gives me the willies to talk with men to whom Cash is a god; for Cash is their store and their stock, and all they can think of is Wad. The master of money never knows the literature of the day, the works of Nick Carter or those of "Rita" or Bertha M. Clay. His soul is in the mart, his life's aim is sordid and grim, the treasures of song and of art and music are dead ones to him. He cares not for color or tone, and nothing for mirth does he care; he sees in the distance a bone, and chases it down to his lair.

WALT MASON.

MAKES PLANS FOR BANQUET.

Shakespeare Society to Entertain April 28 at University Club.

The Shakespeare Society of Washington is to hold a banquet at the University Club the night of April 28 to commemorate the tercentenary of Shakespeare's birth. Dean W. A. Willbur of the collegiate department of George Washington University is to be the toastmaster.

At a business meeting of the Shakespeare Society held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. H. Craigie, 1729 Q street northwest, Monday night, by-laws for the organization were adopted and the regular meeting date was fixed for the first Tuesday in each month from October 1st May.

The society now has a membership of seventy.

AFTER SHAD AND HERRING.

Capt. Dave Faunce Goes to Lower River Aboard a Powerboat.

Capt. Dave Faunce left this morning for the lower river with a power boat to load shad and herring for the market here. He expects to arrive here Monday morning with a full load of the fish from the lower river trap nets. Early in the coming week the work of making ready several of the smaller fishing shores along the Potomac before Alexandria will be started, so that the regular trade in shad and herring will be ready for service.

The local fishermen are of the opinion that the catch of shad and herring this spring will be heavier than for several years. The nets in the mouth of the Potomac, which almost made a fence across it, under United States Army, had not been broken up for several years. TUG DAVIS OVERHAULED.

Vessel Leaves for Baltimore to Operate Under Charter.

The work of overhauling the big tug M. Mitchell Davis of the Taylor fleet of this city has been completed and the vessel left last night for Baltimore to take up charter with the Baker-Whiteley Coal Company. The Davis had been in the yard for about three weeks and in that time received a general overhauling of her boiler and engine and had her steam steering outfit rebuilt. She was repainted and redecorated and is in good condition for efficient service.

The charter to the Baltimore concern is for a year and a month, but it is probable she will remain there for several years. She will be used to dock vessels at the coal piers at Georgetown and to tow on the bay. Capt. Fredburger will be master of the Davis.

The tug, however, the largest tugboat hailing from Washington, is under charter to the Pennsylvania railroad and is employed in towing car barges between Norfolk and Cape Charles, Va.

Would Honor "Loyal Citizens."

Forty-two "loyal citizens" who were executed near Gainesville, Tex., because they refused to join the Confederate army will be honored by a ten-thousand-dollar monument, if the bill introduced by Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts is enacted. The district is represented in Congress by Representative Stephens, with whom Representative Gallivan had a bitter controversy in the House on civil war issues a few days ago. Gallivan bills is the latest retort in the controversy.

To Lecture on D. C. Sewers.

A. E. Phillips, superintendent of sewers in the District, is announced to give an illustrated lecture on the sewerage system of the District at a meeting of the Citizens' Association of Chevy Chase, D. C., Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Chevy Chase schoolhouse.

PRAISES THE PRESIDENT AND DEMOCRATIC PARTY

John F. McCommon Delivers Address Before the National Democratic Women of America.

Achievements of the democratic party during the present national administration, and praise of President Wilson's conduct of international and internal affairs, were presented in an address by John F. McCommon, secretary to Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, at a meeting last night of the National Democratic Women of America in the New Ebbitt Hotel.

A musical program was also given. Mrs. George A. Ames, president of the organization, presided.

Seven achievements of the present administration were outlined by Mr. McCommon, these being, according to the speaker, the tariff, currency act, Clayton anti-trust law, federal trade commission act, seaman's act, the building of a government railroad in Alaska and the foreign policy. He briefly pointed out the important features of each.

In speaking of the foreign policy, he said: "Criticism may be hurled at the diplomacy of the European continent, but the fact remains that it maintained the honor of the United States and kept our country out of the catstrophes of the European continent."

The meeting last night was called for the purpose of preparing plans for the regular meeting date, was the summer, but the absence of Representative Littlepage of West Virginia, who was to outline the plan, prevented consideration of this.

CORNELL CLUB'S HOME IS FORMALLY OPENED

Proceedings Marked by Informal Addresses, College Songs and Exchange of Reminiscences.

The new home of the Cornell Club of Washington, 1504 H street northwest, was opened formally last night with informal speeches by Dr. Howard E. Ames, its president; Horace W. Peaslee, its secretary-treasurer, and Charles Wellington Furlong, the explorer.

Secretary Peaslee said the opening is the beginning of activities by the club. Its members are to send fresh men from this city and surrounding towns to the university in care of the Senators' Club at Cornell, which is the organization of Washington students at Ithaca. There they will have many friends before they reach the college town. Alumni will be entertained here.

Buffet Luncheon Served.

Following the speeches the members sang college songs and exchanged reminiscences of their college days. A buffet luncheon was served. Lounging chairs, desks, books, all the Cornell publications and various other articles appealing to the graduates have been installed in the home.

Among those present were: F. C. Adams, Dr. Howard E. Ames, Theodore K. Bryant, George Burt, W. M. Chandler, Fred V. Coville, Albert C. Dunn, A. Ward Evans, J. E. Farnsworth, Harry J. Foshan, Hugh Fitzhugh, Raymond H. Fuller, Melvin S. Rich, E. J. Gleason, Carl E. Kellerman, Leonard W. Kephart, Clyde E. Lehigh, Paul E. Lehigh, Paul B. Lum, H. T. McKnew, Walter R. Metz, W. J. O'Brien, Capt. Russell B. Putnam, P. R. Rhoads, J. H. Smith, M. Stedman, S. Le Roy Taylor, Otto V. Veerhoff, Collynn Yih, A. C. Minnik, James Elliott and H. S. Fairbanks.

VAUDEVILLE TEA PLANNED.

U. D. C. to Give Entertainment for Benefit of Charity.

One of the most interesting affairs given in Washington for charity will be the vaudeville tea to be given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy of the District of Columbia, the afternoon of Saturday, May 6, at the Raleigh Hotel. A delightful vaudeville program will be given from 2 o'clock until 4:30, and dancing will be enjoyed from 5 until 7. Delicacies and refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon by charming matrons and attractive debutantes of Washington society.

A meeting of the committee on arrangements was held Wednesday morning at the Rochambeau. Miss Alice Threlkeld is chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Maude Howell Smith, president of the District Division, U. D. C., and Mrs. Leonard Hoffman, Mrs. Leonard Hoffman, Mrs. Albert E. Ferguson, Mrs. Archibald Young, Mrs. H. Mitchell, Mrs. Ludlow, Mrs. Belle C. Riley, Mrs. W. E. Tinshead, Miss Helen Griffith, Miss Hattie Rowie, W. E. Brockman and Mahlon Janney.

TO SETTLE LEGAL STATUS.

Nature of Cabaret Entertainment Explained to U. S. Supreme Court.

The nature and peculiarities of the "cabaret" entertainment have been formally laid before the Supreme Court of the United States for the first time, that it might determine the legal status of this new American institution.

A prominent music publisher of New York, who is seeking to have the Supreme Court review a decision of the New York federal courts that a well known restaurant had not violated the right of dramatic production of a copyrighted musical comedy by having rendered at its "cabaret" entertainment a selection from the musical comedy.

In New York held that there was no violation of the copyright because the "cabaret" show was not a performance for profit.

The publisher declares in asking the court to review the New York decision that the decision, if permitted to stand, will seriously diminish the protection afforded publishers of music, as the rendition of popular songs at "cabarets" would interfere with attendance at legitimate performances.

Letters of Administration Sought.

Mary M. Phelps left no will and the Probate Court has been asked to grant letters of administration on her estate to Reuel G. Phelps.

Mary M. Phelps left no will and the Probate Court has been asked to grant letters of administration on her estate to Reuel G. Phelps. The court is told that the estate comprises equities in premises 720 Quebec street, 1714 Euclid street and 2523 11th street estimated at $2,000 and personal property worth $5,000. Attorneys Berry & Minor appear for the petitioner.

A similar request has been made in reference to the estate of Etta Norman by her daughter, Grace Norman Randall. Mrs. Randall has a mother-in-law valued at $3,500 and personally owned premises 304 9th street northwest valued at $1,500. She is represented by Attorneys Charles H. Bauman and Chapin B. Bauman.

Current Account Spends Its Force.

The heavy current which came down from the upper river for several days has about spent its force, and while there is still a downflow of water, it is comparatively light and interferes but little with the movements of the tugs and lighters going to and from Georgetown and to town on the bay.
